HARDY HISTORY OF ANNUAL JURIED EXHIBIT

For some people, the name “Hardy Gallery” conjures up images of the historic graffiti-covered warehouse situated on the shores of Ephraim’s picturesque Eagle Harbor. For others, the name represents years of memories from visiting different exhibitions presented in the unique art gallery, while still others are reminded of the warehouse’s history. For all of these reasons, it is easy to see why the Hardy holds so much meaning for art collectors, Door County residents and visitors alike, not to mention the established and emerging artists who have and continue to exhibit in the simple wooden warehouse from year to year.

The Hardy’s juried exhibit was among the first notable public art displays in the county and today continues among the Door’s most popular exhibits for visual artists. The exhibit, the most significant of the Hardy’s accomplishments in its 59-year history, is also the most recognized. From its very beginnings as a gallery, the Hardy has served as an incubator for the promotion of Door County artists by providing space to visual artists who may not have gallery representation for the display of their work. Many recognizable Door County artists have been introduced to the public through this popular annual juried show. After its modest start in the 1960s, the Hardy grew into a thriving art gallery with a strong local presence during the 1970s. Introducing the public to artists like Gerhard C.F. Miller, Charles L. Peterson, James Ingwersen, Brigitte Kozma, Jack Anderson, Abe Cohn, John Dietrich, Tom Seagard, Phil Austin and Austin Fraser, among others, the Hardy fulfilled one of its primary purposes: to support the visual artists of the Door Peninsula. Exhibits at the Anderson warehouse have been the mainstay of the Hardy’s programming for the past 57 years and as part of its fundamental mission, the organization continues today to introduce the public to visual artists and works to promote and foster the development of the visual arts in our community.

ELIGIBILITY

This call for submission is open to artists of all career levels from emerging to professional, age 18 years or older. All media is eligible (any special exhibit hardware must be provided by the artist). All artwork must have been executed without instructional assistance and be original in concept, design and execution. Photo reproductions or prints (such as giclee) of original works will not be eligible for exhibition. Artwork previously exhibited in Door County or created before May 2020 (artwork must have been executed within the last year) will not be accepted. Work that has been produced with commercial kits, molds, plans, prefabricated forms, or other commercial methods will not be accepted. Artwork exceeding 42 inches horizontally or 72 inches vertically, including frame, will not be accepted. Multiple unit works may be entered if total dimensions meet size limitations. Sculpture must not exceed a weight that can't be handled by one person.

ENTRY FEES

Members (Artistic Level): $10

Non-Members: $35, and $10 for additional entry. New members are welcome to join by adding dues to entry fee; a one-year Artistic Membership is $50. Please make checks payable to the Hardy Gallery. Entry fees are nonrefundable.

SALES

We are a non-commercial exhibit venue but will list works for sale at the artist request. ALL SALES MADE BY THE GALLERY DURING THE TIME OF EXHIBITION ARE SUBJECT TO A TAX-DEDUCTIBLE CONTRIBUTION TO OUR ORGANIZATION OF A 35% COMMISSION FEE. It is the responsibility of the artist to make arrangements with their represented gallery(ies) to determine the listing of their work while on display at the Francis Hardy Center for the Arts, Inc. ("The Hardy Gallery"). Patrons interested in purchasing or viewing other work from the artist not on display will be directly referred to the artist (or their representing gallery). Works need not be for sale but highly encouraged to list for sale. If a work is listed not for sale (NFS) a value must be declared and noted on the insurance form filled out at the time of entry. If work is for sale we ask that you calculate the 35% contribution into your sales price. All work must remain at the gallery for the duration of the exhibit. Any work sold may not be removed, exchanged or replaced. Arrangements for shipping of work sold during the exhibit will be handled by the Hardy Gallery. All art sale payments will be mailed to the artist two weeks after the exhibit ends. Credit Card fees will be deducted from payment.

INSURANCE & LIABILITY

The staff and volunteers of the Hardy Gallery will take every precaution in handling artwork, which will be insured while in the Hardy's possession. Artwork will be insured at the value stated by the artist. The Hardy Gallery assumes no responsibility before or after the specified drop off/pickup dates and times. The artist's submission of work shall include permission to photograph work and/or use images for publicity and education. Photography is not permitted by visitors. Any artwork damaged from flooding while on display at the Hardy Gallery will be the responsibility of the artist. This event may be canceled due to the COVID-19 pandemic and/or uncontrollable high-water levels that occupy Anderson Dock.
